Anadarko Petroleum Corporation, Title Analyst

My name is Jake Calzavara and I work for Anadarko Petroleum Corporation. In my current role I am asked to dream up ways to use new and existing technology to better our business and then execute on those ideas. I have a lot of experience developing, selling, and implementing new ideas in old-fashioned environments. I bring a positive and practical perspective for solving business problems. I'm also a good listener with a lot of patience. I love being active, especially running, cycling, and playing soccer.
