

JOANNA SHEAR
Financial Consultant

I have spent most of my career in finance and accounting positions in which I have learned everything from financial modeling to analysis and reporting. Most recently I was working with a startup in Denver and helped them with setting up accounting and financial systems as well as strategic planning and cash management for the company. I can help a young business owner understand financials and how to set up a business from a legal, tax and regulatory standpoint. I can help with budgeting, forecasting, business modeling, cash management and strategic planning. From my most recent experience with a startup in Denver, I have some valuable lessons learned on how to launch and grow a new business.
