

CORY JOHNSON

Owner, Zenith Painting and Coatings

My name is Cory Johnson and I'm the co-owner of Zenith Painting and Coatings. After getting my start with a national painting franchise back in 2002, I knew being a business owner was the perfect fit for me. Since moving from Minneapolis to Denver 10 years ago to start Zenith, our business has grown immensely.

When we started Zenith back in 2009, it was just 2 guys in a truck doing all of the painting & floor coatings ourselves. Today, we have 10 crews of painters, 3 crews of floor coating installers, 1 crew of roof coating applicators, our sales team and our office staff. Zenith Painting & Coatings is now one of the premiere coatings companies in all of Colorado.

In my 17 years of experience being a business owner and coach, I've led more than 60 individual business owners. I've facilitated countless training sessions on interviewing, time & priority management, conflict resolution, sales, problem solving, coaching and situational leadership. I can help you grow your business, as well as give you the constructive feedback you need to keep you ahead of the game. My passion has always been coaching entrepreneurs and learning as much as possible about other business strategies. My goal is to help give you the foundation and plan to get you to a "mature" business that gives you wealth but also freedom.
